A Point of Interest in Richmond for Reunion Visitors

Are You a Judge of Silks?

Do you ever compare qualities and prices before buying material for your silk dress?

We invite comparisons with our Silks at any time.

We pride ourselves upon the fact that this store is not one of the "in-and-out" kind as regards good values—"specials" one day and very mediocre values the next; but week in and week out, month in and month out, the best the market affords will be found on our shelves and counters.

Warner Corsets

Guaranteed Absolutely Rust Proof

They may even be laundered with perfect safety; and what a boon it is in hot weather to know that one's underclothing cannot become soiled from rusty corset steels.

The Corset illustrated to-day is No. 231, made of batiste, frilled with wide Valenciennes lace and threaded with ribbon.

There is a split gore inserted in the corset, creating long lines, sharply defining the waist and uniting with the curving seams to create a long waist, $1.

A Sale of New Spring Suits

$8.98 $9.75 $10.98 $14.75 $16.98 Worth up to $25.00

Richmond women have never had such an opportunity before of providing themselves with Suits such as they have this season.

Not only are the styles the newest, but the prices are lower than ever before this early in the season—due principally to the fact that the cold weather of the early spring caused suit manufacturers to have a big surplus stock on hand in May.

Repp Suits, Gibson style, three stitched folds over the shoulders; collarless, short sleeves with cuffs, box plaited skirt stitched below the hips; misses' and women's sizes, in light gray, white, pink and light blue. A stylish wash suit. $8.98

OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY IN LEXINGTON

Captain James Bumgardner Delivers Address—School-Children Decorate Graves.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LEXINGTON, VA., May 25.—Rock-bridge Confederate Memorial Day was observed in Lexington to-day. The formal exercises were held in Lee Memorial Chapel at Washington and Lee University at 11 o'clock, with an address by Captain James Bumgardner, of Staunton, Va.

He was introduced by Dr. George H. Denny, president of Washington and Lee. Captain Bumgardner delivered an eloquent address and his lofty sentiments were frequently applauded by his hearers. The chapel rostrum was profusely decorated with Confederate flags and flowers. Commander J. Preston Moore, of Lee-Jackson Camp, Lexington, presided.

A special choir rendered the music on account of rain the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute did not turn out in the procession. The children of the public schools, over 250, with their teachers, marched to the cemetery and placed flowers on the grave of General Stonewall Jackson. Among the floral offerings was one from E. E. Board, of Lebanon, Tenn., whose tribute was given in behalf of the Tennessee brigade, which was first commanded by General Cheatham and later by General Archer. General Lee's tomb was also lovingly decorated by the Daughters of the Confederacy. Among the organizations that took part in the parade were members of the Lexington Fire Department, who were out in their uniforms, with their reels and trucks elaborately decorated with flowers and bunting. This is the first time that rain has interfered with the memorial services in Lexington.

Miss Keckan a Nurse.

Rev. Kendall and James Keegan, graduated on last Thursday, May 23d, from the Training School for Nurses at St. Agnes's Sanitarium, Baltimore, Md.

Mr. Mason A. Candida e.

Mr. W. H. W. Mason, a well-known member of the Richmond Movietrons, and a popular young man, has announced his candidacy for the City Democratic Committee for Madison Ward.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. D. H. Parrish, of Second Avenue, Chestnut Hill, gave an enjoyable birthday party last Wednesday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Virginia Mathews. Games and music were indulged in until a late hour, when refreshments were served. Miss Mathews was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

Those present were Misses May, Florence and Irene Jones, Alice Spiers, Gertrude Lawrence, Daisy Seny, Sadie Tinsley, Regina Carlson, of Richmond, and Misses Viola Bartlett, and Virginia Mathews, of Chestnut Hill; Messrs. Marion Meyers, Walter Loth, James Parrish, John Gude, John Spiers, Arthur Carlson, Stanley Mathews, Herbert and Robert Parrish, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Parrish, Mrs. Edith Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gann, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jones and Mrs. M. A. Gann.

WORKING IN STEEL MARKS.

The workman wore a steel mask with glazed eyeholes, a rubber suit, rubber gloves and rubber boots, and he carried a pair of tongs of silvery aluminum.

"In certain departments of the plant," said the dynamite manufacturer, "all our workmen are dressed like that. They must be. Otherwise they would be smeared with chemicals and splashed with acids that would eat their flesh like liquid fire."

"But the aluminum tongs?"

"They are for lifting the gun cotton out of its nitric acid bath. Aluminum is the only metal upon which the nitric acid has no effect."

"He turned to the workman."

"Everything all right, George?" he said.

"So, so," came a sepulchral answer from behind the mask of steel.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Both Out and In.

The Needy One—"I say, old man, could you lend me a dollar for a day or two?"

The Other One—"My dear fellow, the dollar I lend is out at present, and I've several names down for it when it comes back."—Harper's Weekly.
